

The graphs below sum the story up succinctly. The poor quality of our educational system results in an inability to create jobs for our youth.

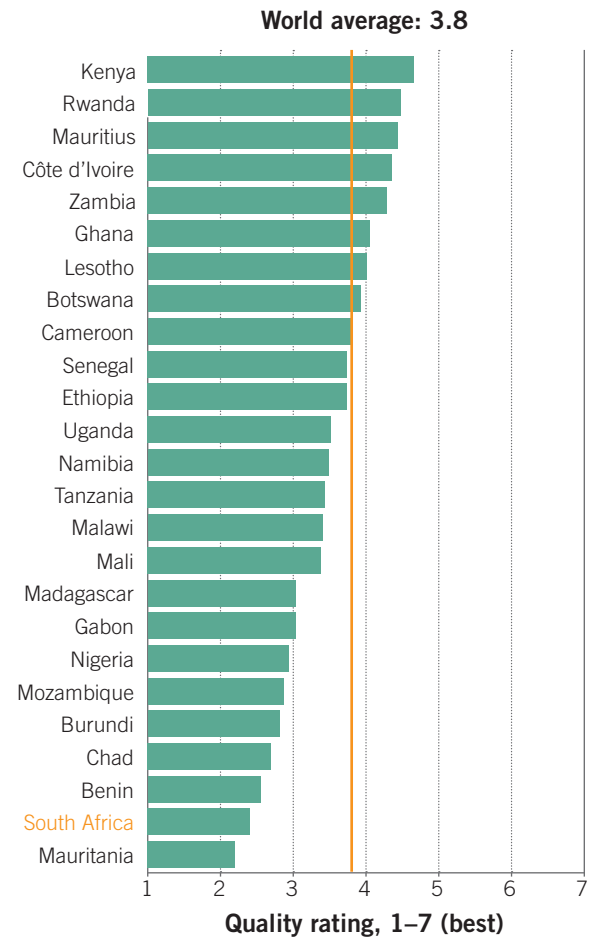

Figure 8: Economic activity, unemployment and inactivity among Africa's working-age population

Source: World Economic Forum, Human Capital Index 2016

Note: Percentages in parentheses after country names refer to the labour force participation gender gap. For example, Madagascar has a 5% gap in women's labour force participation.

Figure 9: Quality of Africa's education systems

Source: World Economic Forum, Executive Opinion Survey